WBL Grading Policy

A passing grade (A, B, C, D) will be assigned only after the complete workbook has been received. Determining your final grade is the responsibility of the WBL faculty coordinator. The following factors will be considered in determining your final grade:

- The employer’s overall evaluation of the objectives.

- Input received from your on-site supervisor during visits.

- Input received from you during the on-site visits.

- A thorough completion of the student’s self-evaluation and time/wage report form.
The Meaning of Work Based Learning

This course provides a work-based learning experience with a college-approved employer in an area related to the student’s program of study. Emphasis is placed on integrating classroom learning with related work experience. Upon completion, students should be able to evaluate career selection, demonstrate employability skills, and satisfactorily perform work-related competencies.

The program involves a cooperative effort between employers and the college: the college teaches basic skills and principles useful in practical work situations; the employer provides a specific and practical work experience. Through combining on-site job training with classroom learning, Gaston College students are better prepared to meet the challenges of a changing technological society. This develops a well-rounded student who finds the transition from college to the world of work easier.

The Workbook

The purpose of the Work Based Learning Workbook is to:

- Help the student focus on “learning” during the WBL work experience.
- Provide the student with a basis through which the goals to be accomplished during the work experience may objectively be established.
- Provide for the evaluation of MLO’S and work habits.
- Provide for the maintenance of an accurate record of work hours and wages earned during the semester.

Steps to Complete Workbook

1. Provide information required on the outside cover.

2. Write Measurable Learning Objectives (MLO’s) on page 6A or 6B and sign your name in the space provided.

3. Obtain an approval signature on your MLO’s from your on-site supervisor.

4. Make arrangements to review the MLO’s with your faculty coordinator to obtain an approval signature.

5. Maintain workbook while working toward accomplishing your MLO’S during the semester.

6. Have your on-site supervisor complete the employer evaluation on page 8.

7. Complete time/wage form on pages 10 and 11. The form must be signed and verified by your on-site supervisor.

9. Submit completed workbook on or before the date indicated on the front cover of the WBL workbook or acquire special approval from your faculty coordinator. If the workbook is not turned in on time, the Cooperative Education Office will give an incomplete (I) grade.
What are Measurable Learning Objectives (MLO)?

Measurable Learning Objectives (MLO’s) are goals that a student plans to accomplish by the end of the semester. During the WBL job orientation, the employer and the student should agree on MLO’s for the work period. The MLO’s must be directly related to the student’s classroom studies and enhance the student’s creative, problem solving, and technical skills as well as personal improvement. Faculty Representative and Supervisor must approve the MLO’s.

Credit is granted for learning that occurs as a result of working and not for actual work done on the job. Learning objectives are the most effective method to assess the extent and value of this type of learning.

Writing MLO Guidelines

Students should carefully review the job duties and responsibilities with the supervisor at the WBL work site, noting areas in which the student can gain or develop new skills, increase their knowledge or improve their work ethic. Broad general statements should be avoided and limit objectives to those that can be accomplished during a single semester.

The structure of an MLO statement combines four major components to form a single sentence. The components are:

- Activity – the desired outcome or expected achievement. Use action words such as:
  - demonstrate
  - describe
  - develop
  - draw
  - design
  - operate
  - perform
  - discuss
  - summarize
  - increase

- Forecast - the proposed level of accomplishment (expressed numerically whenever possible)

- Time Frame – the expected completion date (by date)

- Evaluation – the stated method of measurement (evaluated by - - - )

Examples of well written MLO’s:

By the end of the semester (Time), I will perform managerial activities of day-to-day operations (Activity) while job shadowing my director (Forecast) to the satisfaction of my supervisor (Evaluation).

By the end of the semester (Time), I will plan and implement two socially interactive activities with staff (Activity) to promote teamwork on a weekly basis (Forecast).

By the end of the semester (Time), I will increase my typing speed (Activity) from 50 to 60 wpm while maintaining or decreasing my present error rate (Forecast) as judged by my supervisor (Evaluation).

By the end of the semester (Time), I will be able to accurately balance charges and payments (Activity) for each doctor at the end of the day.

Time and Wage Report

It is the student’s responsibility to provide an accurate time and wage report. Before academic credit can be granted, ALL SIGNATURES are required.

The breakdown of credit hours is as follows:

- 1 credit hour = 160 work hours
- 2 credit hours = 320 work hours
- 3 credit hours = 480 work hours (only by Director’s approval)

Grade of Incomplete (I)

Students who need extra time to complete the objectives of the WBL course because of unusual circumstances may receive a grade of an “I” (Incomplete). The Faculty Coordinator must approve this in advance. The “I” is compiled in the GPA as “0” quality points, which means the student will not be on the President’s List or the Dean’s List and could affect financial aide and/or scholarships until it is removed. However, when a student completes the provisions necessary for the removal of an “I”, the “I” will be removed from the student’s record and a grade awarded.

Time and Wage

In order for a WBL student to receive academic credit, an account of time and days worked must be recorded by the student (including wages earned, if applicable) and verified by the on-site supervisor. This information is strictly confidential.

Your attendance is recorded on the time and wage report and signed by you and your immediate on-site supervisor. If this is not properly done correctly, a grade of “I”, “F”, or “X” will be given.

Below is an example of the time/wage report:
