The Kingdom of Morocco continues to be one of our most popular Gaston College Study Tour destinations. In May, 2020, we will once again embark on a Moroccan adventure for a select group of 20 participants. This time we are adding some new locations on our Morocco itinerary, making this our most comprehensive tour.

This 10-day tour will include a visit to the northern Mediterranean Coast. We have arranged a quick trip from Casablanca to Tangier on the Moroccan Fast Train. Our luggage will be brought to us by our private motorcoach so that we do not have to bother with it on the train, and the trip that usually takes half a day is only a 2-hour journey by fast train. We will also go into the picturesque Rif Mountains in the north, where we will do sightseeing at Chefchouan, the jewel of the north. We will still travel to Fes, Merzouga and the Sahara Desert.

dissolute past, when the likes of Jack Kerouac and William Burroughs might have frequented its drinking dens, have been brushed aside and it is now a modern artistic city, retaining a colorful and lively medina.

- There will be an afternoon to explore the city at leisure, and for those with an interest in the American writers who made Tangier their home for a while, you should make a pilgrimage to their hangout at the Café de Paris which has changed very little in the past fifty years.

DAY 4
Wednesday, May 20
Tangier to Fes via Chefchaouen
- This morning you depart by private bus, climbing up into the Rif Mountains to Chefchaouen.
- Along the way we plan to stop for a photograph of the southern coast of Spain across the Mediterranean.
- Founded in 1471 Chefchaouen was largely cut off from the outside world until the early 20th century. The houses of Chefchaouen are painted in extraordinary vibrant shades of blue and white, testament to the Jewish community from Spain that once thrived here.
- You can explore the Medina and main square with its lively cafes and restaurants. The town is famous for its silks and wools and can be a good place to buy a rug or kilim from the souk. Be prepared to bargain hard!
- In the afternoon you continue to Fes with time to explore on your own.
- In the evening, dinner will be in a restaurant overlooking the souk.

Dinne r this evening will be at your hotel.

DAY 6
Friday, May 22
Fes to Erfoud & Merzouga
- This morning you continue your journey, heading south through the Middle Atlas and cedar forests near Azrou to the grassy plains where nomads still graze their goats and camels.
- You pass by the dramatic Ziz Gorge before arriving at the town of Midelt which is a half-way lunch stop on the journey to the Sahara.
- From Midelt you continue the journey south heading towards the Sahara Desert and the town of Erfoud, which is the gateway to the Sahara Desert.
- Your hotel is in the town of Merzouga, situated by the sand dunes on the edge of the Sahara.
- We will be able to watch a spectacular sunrise (or sunset) from the Sahara dunes nearby the hotel.

DAY 7
Saturday, May 23
Merzouga-Todra-Boumalen-Dades
- Departing from Erfoud you now travel west to Tinghir where you (continued on page 4)
visit the spectacular Todra Gorge where the Dades River has carved out a 25 mile long canyon with sheer walls rising several hundred feet.
- You have time here to explore the canyon and have lunch.
- After lunch you continue to the town of Boumalen-Dades which is inhabited by Berber people and where you spend the night.

DAY 8

Sunday, May 24

Boumalen-Dades to Marrakech
- Today you drive to the town of Ouarzazate which has an impressive old medina. Ouarzazate has a vibrant film industry and many Hollywood films are made at its studios or on location outside the city.
- You continue the journey towards Marrakech and stop at the renowned Ksar of Ait Benhaddou where many famous Hollywood films have been set.
- You cross the High Atlas Mountains via the spectacular Tizi n Tichka pass and descend on the south side of the pass to reach Marrakech.

DAY 9

Monday, May 25

Marrakech to Casablanca
- This morning you have a guided tour of the Old Medina quarter of the city starting with the ancient Koutoubia Mosque which dates from the 12th century. While it's not possible for non-Muslims to go inside the mosque, you can explore the surrounding gardens.
- You then walk over to the main square of Marrakech, the Djemma al Fnaa. This huge square (often just called the main square) is a vibrant mix of food stalls, musicians, jugglers, snake charmers and other performers, all vying for your attention.
- Beyond the Djemma you can find the Souk, a cavernous and rambling maze of narrow alleyways with stalls selling every manner of products imaginable. You need your bargaining skills to be at their sharpest here.
- An optional visit could include the famous Majorelle Gardens which were once owned by Yves St. Laurent.
- In the afternoon you travel by road back to Casablanca.
- Your farewell dinner this evening will be arranged at Rick’s Café which recreates the original movie set.
